City Plans To Observe Unity Week

Dinner Monday Evening
Designed To Arouse Interest In U.S.O. Drive

Responding to a call from President Roosevelt to observe National Unity Week from July 20-26, Sierra Madreans will join in the two major projects which this city is sponsoring during that time.

To stimulate interest in the local U.S.O. drive, which has been making little headway here, the V.F.W. with the cooperation of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, is sponsoring a buffet supper at the Woman's clubhouse, Monday evening, July 21, at 6:30.

Joseph Scott, generally known as the most prominent attorney in Southern California, will be the guest speaker. As Mr. Scott also has another speaking engagement for that evening he will arrive early, therefore those wishing to hear him should be at the clubhouse not later than 6:30.

Music for the evening will be arranged through the courtesy of Jascha Gagne, Sierra Madre violinist and member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

All food and service have been donated and those attending may feel assured that the entire proceeds will be given to the U.S.O.

Also scheduled for the week is the National aluminum drive in which every city and town in the nation will take part. Mayor Schiltz, in asking that all residents respond by donating every aluminum utensil which can be spared, has announced that Mrs. Cora Corum, assisted by other Sierra Madre women, will be in the council chamber during the entire week to receive all aluminum gifts. These will be sold, and the proceeds donated to the U.S.O., assuring a two fold benefit as the utensils will be reprocessed and used for vital work in the airplane industry. The local aluminum drive is under the joint auspices of the V.F.W. and the American Legion.

Scouts Thrilled By Week's Vacation At Mountain Camp

Six days of swimming, boating and fishing were concluded for members of Boy Scout Troop 2 Saturday when they returned from a vacation at Cold Brook, near Big Bear. The Troop was accompanied by Robert Walsh of St. Rita's parish. On the trip were Elmore Thill, Jack Creighton, David Duran, Joseph Mullender, Donald and Eugene Colbert, Bill Kinney, Bruce, Bill and Robert Newberry, John Smurda, Raymond Picard, Anthony Barella, Francis Yehle and Frank LaSalle. Several of these boys will enjoy an August outing at Camp Cherry Valley on Santa Catalina Island.

Members of Troop 1, who will be among 200 Scouts leaving for Cherry Valley today, are Harry Lovejoy, Edmund Blakeman and Bob McCullah.

Summer Carnival At Church On Friday

The summer carnival sponsored by the Consero Club of the Congregational Church will be in full swing at 7:30 Friday evening in Pritchard Hall. There will be no admission charge. Dorothy Wallisworth and Marjorie Peterson, general chairman, promise entertainment and fun for the entire family with never a dull moment. The program includes bowling, dancing, games, music, grab-bags, etc., with regular carnival food.

Sub-chairmen are: tickets, Muriel Tarr; raffles, Lucille Grootsema; balloons and darts, Altha Butler; fortune telling, Ruth Miles; games, Kathryn Kirk; music, Ira Miller; popcorn, Margaret Miller; fish pond, Alice Dempsey; "make your own recordings" booth, Marianne Dailey; scoons and tea, Bud Doty; pop and ice cream, Marjorie Black; portrait studio, Marjorie Black; carnival layout, Revina Urata; story telling, Dorothy Hanson, and publicity, Cynthia Baugh.

US Wins Confidence Of South America, Says Chile Woman

A picture of the South American nations gradually changing from their established attitude of distrust, suspicion and fear of the United States, to an acceptance of the sincerity of the present American foreign policy was presented by Miss Graciela Manuana of Chile to more than one thousand California women who attended a luncheon meeting of the Women's Democratic Study Clubs at the Hollywood Bowl Friday.

Attending from Sierra Madre were Miss Elizabeth Steinberg, Mrs. Cora Corum, Mrs. Charles Klunk, Mrs. Fred Griebenson, Mrs. Donald Damon, Mrs. John C. James, and Mrs. Pearl Virginia Steinberger.

Free Swim Tickets Available For 50 Kids Each Week

Sierra Madre youngsters under 12 years, who want free tickets to the Canyon plunge, should apply for them Saturday and Monday mornings at the Kiwanis Recreation Center on East Montecito avenue. Fifty free swims will be given each week.

America Next Objective Of Nazis

Gen. Young, New Resident Here, Says Hitler Victory Would Enslave All Peoples

A Nazi victory in Europe would be followed by an attack on this country, would place America in the position of an armed camp and create an order in which all countries would become virtually slaves in the opinion of General Edward C. Young, who recently became a Sierra Madrean through purchase of the Byron Somers estate on East Orange Grove avenue.

Looking at the present European conflict from the political and economic as well as the military angle, General Young declares that only through a complete triumph over the Nazi doctrine can an enduring world peace be brought about.

"I am strong for National Defense, and absolute adherence to our established policy of freedom of the seas," said the General in an interview this week. "At present I believe that our defense measures should deal more with materials of war than with men. I approve the action the President in taking possession of our outposts, and I am in favor of whatever American intervention is necessary to stamp out Nazism."

Referring to a possible future attack on America, General Young infers that such an attack might be largely economic but that this country would be in the position of an armed camp surrounded by hostile nations. He sees no hope of establishing a permanent peace through appeasement or a negotiated peace and believes strongly in cooperation among the remaining democracies. However he does not subscribe to a federation of democracies as advanced by adherents of the plan for Federal Union.

General Young is closely in touch with world events, but also finds time for his hobbies, American art, and lemon growing. Mrs. Young, still busy adjusting their new home, is a professional musician. She has appeared as vocal soloist in eastern churches and in concert in New York and Kansas City.

Mother Of Priest Killed When Autos Crash; Father Hurt

Injuries received in a motor crash near Waukegan, Ill., caused the death of Mrs. James Viti early this week at a Waukegan hospital. It was learned yesterday Mrs. Viti was the mother of the Rev. Father Edward Viti who has been a resident of the Passionist Monastery for the last two years. James Viti, father of Rev. Viti, was also injured in the crash, and as yet his condition is not known. Both Mr. and Mrs. Viti were known to local residents, as they spent two months here during the last two winters.

Rev. Viti accompanied by a nephew left earlier in the week for Santa Cruz where he was to conduct a mission. He was traveling by way of Yosemite where he was located Tuesday evening. He left immediately for the Highlands, Ill., home of his parents.

Saving Of Vitamins In Cooking Will Be Demonstrated

Saving valuable vitamins through a cooking method which tenderizes vegetables at a temperature below the boiling point, will be discussed at the Wistaria Vine Sunday Salon this week by A. J. Carey, vitamin expert who will prepare the entire supper.

A garden forum on summer bulbs will be conducted by J. A. Girdland of Arcadia. Guests are asked to bring specimens of summer flowering bulbs. The entire program is open to everyone and those unable to attend supper will be welcome at the forum which will begin at 7:15.

A Correction

A story published in the Sierra Madre News of June 26 involving the arrest of Harry Benson, charged with complicity in an attempted holdup, stated that Benson apparently lived at his place of business, the Mountain View Cafe on East Foothill blvd. The NEWS has learned that at the time of his arrest and for some time before Benson had not been connected with the above named business, and is glad to make the correction.

A Call for Unity

The proclamation of Mayor W. J. Schiltz follows:

WHEREAS, the President has declared an Unlimited National Emergency and informed men believe that aggression has faced our Country with the gravest crisis in its history, and

WHEREAS, our safety and the preservation of our free way of life demands singleness of purpose and the concentration of our effort on National Defense, and

WHEREAS, we find certain evil forces in our midst which are organized to divide and confuse us and to prevent this concentration of effort, and

WHEREAS, the people of this country want this confusion dispersed and seek a way to express their unity behind our Constitutional leaders,

THEREFORE, I, W. J. Schiltz, Mayor of the City of Sierra Madre, California, hereby proclaim the week of July 20th to 26th as NATIONAL UNITY WEEK, and request that all citizens rise above personal or group interests to defend the common welfare, and I call upon all religious and other civic groups to provide channels for such expressions of unity, and I further request that our flag be displayed by every citizen between sunrise and sunset during this entire week.

Santa Anita Dam To Be Strengthened As Safety Measure

Strengthening of the side walls and improvement of the floor of the Big Santa Anita Canyon just below the Santa Anita Dam will begin early in September, according to an announcement from H. E. Hedger, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Flood Control district.

This will be done to make the entire stream bed invulnerable to heavier floods than any yet known in that area. The district's budget carries an appropriation of $51,775 for this work. Hydraulic model tests are now under way to determine the exact procedure to follow. These will be completed late in August, Hedger said.

City To Buy 160 Acres Of Watershed

Tract Includes 800 Feet Of Stream Bed Below Orchard Camp Site

Possibility that the city may soon acquire another 160 acre tract of watershed in the Little Santa Anita Canyon was indicated this week when Lee W. Miller of Glendale appeared before the city council and offered to sell his north-east quarter of section 8 for $800.

Purchase of the tract would give the city virtual control of the greater part of all of the undeveloped area of the Little Santa Anita Canyon. The tract is located south of Orchard Camp on the west side of the Canyon and includes approximately 600 feet of stream bed. It adjoins the Strain property in which the city acquired an undivided half interest two years ago.

Action was withheld pending investigation of the committee of the whole, which will report back with a definite decision at the next council meeting Tuesday evening.

Digging Tunnel To Delay Opening Of Short Cut To Desert

One hundred and fifty men from San Quentin prison have completed approximately one-third of the hard rock bore which is being put through on the Angeles Crest Highway above Chino, according to Pat Harlan, Santa Anita District Ranger. The tunnel which is being driven through solid rock was started in May and will be 600 feet in length when completed in about five months.

It is one of the major engineering projects in putting the mountain highway through to Big Pines.

Women Will Sew In Park House For Europe's War Victims

Women of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Sierra Madre, working through Third Church of Pasadena, have completed more than 60 children's garments which will be sent into the war zones. Having received the consent of the city council this group will sew each Friday at the city park house. They are working under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Stitt, who is also asking local women to donate used handbags which may be equipped with toilet articles for women in bombed areas.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

SIERRA MADRE has a record to live up to. We always have gone over our quotas here. We have won national distinction for our Red Cross response. We have done and are doing an admirable lot of war relief work. That is, our ladies are doing it, and we husbands have been generally setting them off to do it for some time. This town has sent out sweatshirts and clothes enough to keep a town half its size clothed, and layettes enough to mop up the Thames.

The one quota on which we have fallen down so far is the U.S.O. quota. So next Monday night the whole town—the Kiwanians, the Woman's Club, the ex-service men, the merchants—are putting on a show and supper for the U.S.O. The food, the service, the entertainment and the clubhouse are all donated and every fifty cents spent for a ticket will go to the U.S.O. quota. Everybody in town should buy at least one ticket to this affair. Every Kiwanian is taking fifty tickets. Let's all be sporty about this, and if we can't be sporty let's be as sporty as we can. In the office I work in there were no ifs or ands about it. In each department a young woman was appointed to get a donation from everyone in the department. The establishment wished a 100 per cent showing.

Move To Halt Shortage In Reservoirs

Attempting to further increase the efficiency of Sierra Madre's water system the city council Tuesday evening advised Wm. Schwartz, water superintendent, to draw up specifications for a reservoir level and signal system for the Mira Monte and Auburn avenue reservoirs, and to advertise for bids.

Installation of such a system would enable attendants at the central pumping plant to know at all times the condition of both the city's other reservoirs. Trips must be made now several times each day to both locations to ascertain the amount of water in the reservoirs. Schwartz has recently pointed out that during the winter floods of 1938 one of the reservoirs was entirely emptied through a broken main which was not discovered until the following morning.

Similar loss of water could create a serious situation within the city in the event of fires, and to forestall any such eventuality the council has agreed to consider the recommendation of the water superintendent.

Shortage Of Nurses An Acute Problem Of U.S. Defense

Discussing the shortage of nurses which is creating an acute problem in the National Defense set-up, Miss Louise Floye was chosen as her lecture topic "In the Absence of Nurses—What?" when she appears on the Red Cross Unlimited Emergency program at UCLA Campus Monday afternoon, July 21. A number of Red Cross members here have been attending the lecture course which ends July 25.

Police Will Enforce All Traffic Laws

Officials Of Every City In The County Agree Upon A Uniform Program

Uniform enforcement of traffic regulations throughout the county finds Sierra Madre inaugurating a plan to reduce speed upon city streets and calling for the arrest of all motorists who violate the motor vehicle code, according to Chief of Police Gordon McMillan. This traffic program is being sponsored by the Peace Officers Traffic Council to which all police departments of the county have pledged their support.

Sierra Madre's part in the accident prevention program was announced at the same time that every city and traffic law enforcement agency in Los Angeles County issued a similar warning to motorists to "watch their step."

"We are not starting a so-called 'drive' against anybody or group," said Chief McMillan. "We have been studying this traffic problem seriously for some time in conjunction with other enforcement officers of the county and have now adopted a coordinated plan so that enforcement of traffic laws will be the same in one part of the county as in all others."

Local police officers have been instructed to uniformly and impartially enforce all traffic laws with special attention directed towards excessive speed, failure to stop at intersections, failure to give signals, and to give pedestrians right of way.

"Too many persons leave for their place of business or employment at the very last moment," said Chief McMillan, "and as a result they speed their vehicles beyond reason in order to arrive on time. Our efforts will be applied the same as in all other parts of this section of the county. The warning I am giving not only applies to drivers in this locality but to those motorists who drive to nearby cities."

"With all cities and traffic law enforcement agencies working together on an agreed plan we hope to bring about a real improvement in traffic conditions."

Citations for varied violations of the motor vehicle code have been issued recently to five Sierra Madreans whose cases will be heard in the city court either tomorrow or Monday. Those cited to appear are Merle James Cass, failure to make a boulevard stop; Wm. Wayne Cass, Jr., traveling 50 miles in a 25-mile zone; Theodore M. Wagner, boulevard stop; Lawrence Haight Pierson, driving without lights, and Lee A. Kennan, traveling 50 miles in a 25-mile zone.

Sunday Concerts In City Park Planned

Outdoor summer concerts of many of the world's greatest recordings may become a regular weekly event, as the city council has agreed to permit Richard I. Welles, to present a trial concert of popular-classic recordings in the City Park Sunday afternoon. If the event is successful and satisfactory to the city, local citizens and Mr. Welles, the concerts will be continued each Sunday afternoon from 3 until 4:30 o'clock.

Mercury Climbs As Mid-July Arrives

The mercury shot up several degrees this week, bringing several hot days which, however, were not unusual for this season. Nights and mornings have remained cool, but no break in the prevailing warm atmosphere is foreseen during the weekend. Temperatures for the week were:

	Max.	Min.
July 10	88	62
July 11	88	59
July 12	84	56
July 13	87	54
July 14	90	57
July 15	96	60

Mrs. Wilkes Resigns Presidency Of The Garden Club

Mrs. Maria Wilkes who has been associated with the Wistaria Vine Gardens for the last several months, is leaving Sierra Madre to reestablish her permanent residence in Los Angeles. She has opened a garden club at a department store and will carry on her varied horticultural activities, she announced at the Monday evening meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club when she presented her resignation as president. Mrs. Frank Spencer has been appointed to the presidency for the rest of the club year.

A large group assembled on the deck veranda of the F. B. Nightingale home in Altadena, and enjoyed a pot luck supper which preceded the evening program.

Georgia Foster, Publicity Chmn.

Find Work For Old SRA Clients On Streets Of City

Work within the city for several former SRA clients who were recently deprived of their usual work when the State Legislature failed to vote funds for the continuance of various SRA projects, seemed assured yesterday following action of the city council in approving a county resolution which will make gas tax funds available for city street improvements.

These funds are a part of the county's allocation of the state gas tax and may legally be used within corporate limits of a city for repairs, maintenance, construction or improvement of streets, bridges or culverts.

The city has asked that ten men be placed on this work but as yet has been granted only two. The work period will be seven hours a day and a five-day week.

Council Gets New Defense Ordinance

A revised uniform state ordinance for the creation of a local defense council prepared by the State Council of Defense, was presented to the City Council Tuesday evening and referred to the committee of the whole for report at the next meeting, when it will be read in its entirety for the first time.

Indication is given that the council will adopt the ordinance which will set up a defense council composed of functioning committees dealing with all of the city's major problems.

The Defense Council would function in an advisory capacity similar to that of the Planning Commission, and at all times would be closely in touch with matters relating to public safety, human resources and skills, health, welfare and consumer interest and related national defense measures.

Five Day Adventure In Mountains, Trails, Discourages Youth

A five day adventure on foot through the rugged mountains from Chantry Flats to Big Pines left two teen-age Sierra Madreans slightly disillusioned about the lure of trails, and sent Forest Rangers searching through the entire district during the weekend in response to pleas from almost frantic parents.

The youths, Bob Sprehn, 16, of 246 South Sunnyside and Bill Carrow, 17, of Canyon Park left last Tuesday for a short trip to West Fork from the Big Santa Anita Canyon. They were accompanied by Sprehn's brother, Wendell, who remained with them until Wednesday then returned home with word that the hikers would be back the following day.

Arriving at West Fork the boys were overcome with the irresistible temptation to see the country which lay just beyond and headed for Charlton Flats and Chino, and the desert beyond. Thursday night found them chopping steps up the steep icy slopes of Mt. Baden Powell, and later they were forced to dig in for the night under the towering 9000 ft. peak. Friday they arrived weary and footsore at Big Pines from where they hitchhiked to the Big Bear cabin of young Sprehn's sister, where they rested two days.

Meanwhile worried parents had spurred forest rangers into a search for the missing boys. Pat Harlan, Santa Anita District Ranger, responded and traced the hikers to Big Pines. Early Monday they arrived home with first hand knowledge of "roughing it" and some down-to-earth facts about a 100-mile trek on foot through chaparral covered mountains.

Woman's Club Gets Reduction In Taxes

Mrs. Lovetta Pratt, president of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, appeared before the Board of Equalization in Los Angeles last week and was granted a $40 reduction in club taxes. She announced this before the members of the club's new board last Thursday morning in the clubhouse. The board met to lay the groundwork for the activities of the coming year.

CHANGE STATUS OF LOCAL STATE GUARD REGIMENT; ALL WILL PACK RIFLES

On orders from the Sacramento office of Adjutant General J. O. Donovan, designation of the Third Regiment, has been changed so that it will no longer be a composite group but a rifle regiment. This change brings about a reduction of the number of men in each platoon from 39 to 28. Three rifle platoons and one headquarters platoon will form a company.

At the present time there are enough members in the Sierra

Announce Men Added To Draft List

Mayor's Son Takes Vows As A Priest

Arthur Schiltz, only son of Mayor and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz took his first vows as a priest of the Passionist Order at the profession ceremony held yesterday at St. Francis Catholic church in St. Paul, Kansas.

Seven years ago he began his study for the priesthood at St. Louis, Mo. Following the ceremony he will leave for the Passionist Monastery at Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Schiltz left last Thursday for Kansas, spending a few days with relatives at Wichita, then going to St. Paul for the service. She will travel as far as Chicago with Arthur Schiltz, remain there for a visit with old friends and will later visit relatives in Milwaukee, Sterling, Ill., and Omaha.

Two Properties In Canyon Park In New Hands

Sale of two Canyon Park properties was announced this week as Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Pugh relinquished ownership of Audubon Court at 467 Sturtevant drive to Miss Bertha Aldrich of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Pugh have owned the 12 cottages at Audubon Court for the last six years. They have now purchased the five-room home and acre of ground at 387 Sycamore place from the Gordon estate.

Miss Aldrich, new owner of the court is a public accountant in Los Angeles.

New Speakers For The Summer School

Promising talks of exceptional interest Miss Stella Thomas of Pasadena and Mrs. Mary Salmon are scheduled to speak next week at Bethany Summer Bible school. Miss Thomas will present the scripture at 11 a.m. Tuesday, following visits to the classrooms. Birds of the Bible will be discussed Wednesday morning at the same time by Mrs. Salmon, curator of the Audubon Society, who will show interesting specimens.

Madre unit to form two full rifle platoons, and local officers are hoping that enough additional men will enlist to complete a headquarters platoon. Enlistments will close July 31. Regular manual of arms and rifle drills are being held each Wednesday evening at the grammar school grounds. Major Staats, battalion commander, was here to inspect the unit last night.

Fred Schwartz, District Manager of Edison Co., Retires After 29 Years

Planning to give further service to his community through advancing the program of the Memorial Free Animal Clinic at Monrovia while at the same time carrying on as president of the Monrovia Rotary Club, Fred Schwartz has announced his retirement from the Southern California Edison Co. following 29 years and three months continuous service, 25 years of which have been spent as manager of the Monrovia district.

Mr. Schwartz began his career with the Edison Co. in Long Beach, becoming manager of the Monrovia district in 1913, when there were only 2000 meters in service there. Since that time 13,000 additional meters have been installed throughout the district which extends from the San Gabriel river to Lamanda Park and from the foothills to Lower Azusa road.

During his residence in Monrovia, Mr. Schwartz has been closely connected with civic projects and community welfare. He has served as president and director of the Chamber of Commerce, secretary of the old Board of Trade, and director of the Business Bureau.

Successor to Mr. Schwartz is Walter Schaffer, former manager of the Alhambra district. Mr. Schaffer became an employee of the Edison Co. 13 years ago, working first in the sales department at Long Beach. Later he went to Covina as district manager and from there to Alhambra. He resides in Monrovia.

A. L. A. Activities

At our unit meeting on Thursday night the following officers were elected: Lucile Pickett, president; Catherine Miller, 1st vice-president; Grace Koch, 2nd vice-president; Leila Embree, secretary; Orelia Stinman, treasurer; Lotta Hopper, chaplain; Maybelle Barker, historian; Clare Moon, sergeant-at-arms; Imo Koon, marshal. Executive board, Ruth Kelleher, Bertha Irvine and Dolly Hill.

Delegates to the state convention at Sacramento are Lucile Pickett and Minnie Stinman; alternates, Lucile Hoegoe and Orelia Stinman. After the business meeting the members adjourned to the home of Lucile Pickett for refreshments and a social time.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clare Moon, 25 Lowell avenue, on Thursday evening, July 24. Plans for the Installation ceremonies will be planned at this time. Maybelle C. Barker, Press Chmn.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

Ho-hum... another day... much to be done... the weather is warm... Ho-hum. Oh how we want to go up to the pool where the air is hazy and the water cool... or maybe we'd like to rest in the shade on a block of ice sipping lemonade. And now we're rubbing our brows and thinking of something nice for you who like drinking... perhaps you'd prefer to lie on the beach with a mug of beer within easy reach but if you're not a clever bloke, you may end up with a bad sunstroke... Dale and Dick, they say this stinks... but who is bothered what they think? So phooey on people who cast aspersions upon my brave poetic versions.

Vacations are wonderful things... if only we could slip back into the routine of work without having such a sudden disrupting of pleasure.

Captain Everett's wild ride on the Fourth was as exciting and dangerous as the first venture of the pony express or the flight of the Wright brothers. The neighbors stood on the side lines waving a sad farewell to the Captain who crossed his fingers, smiled bravely and started on his brave adventure from which he returned all in one piece and right side up.

Progressive dinners have nothing at all on Mary Armstrong and Buddy Hartman who disagreed Friday on where they should eat dinner. Buddy ate first in the place he had chosen, then watched Mary devour her victuals at a spot removed from his choice. It's all in the head... they ate the same things.

If all men are like Bud Evans, the women of the country will soon be applying for the marriage licenses. Bud came home from camp on Friday, went for his license Saturday and found the office closed... result, a delay in his marriage to Ann Gripe, and an upset in their plans.

KNOCKS AT THE DOOR

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, as the old proverb says, and depression's children—knocked about for years on end—now find opportunity knocking on their door as a result of the national emergency. America needs millions of trained men and America is willing to provide the training.

The nation's vocational schools, it was announced last week, will pour more than 1,250,000 trained workers into industry during the 1940-41 school year. According to a survey just completed, more than 800,000 regular students are enrolled in public trade and industrial schools of the country; another 50,000 are entered in private, endowed trade schools which give high calibre industrial training courses, and private trade schools are increasing so fast that the government checkers can't keep up with them.

Are there jobs to be had? The best answer to that query is the report of Director George Kidwell of the California State Department of Industrial Relations for last month. Manufacturing payrolls boomed ahead 59 1/2 per cent last month over the same period a year ago. And general employment was up 36 1/2 per cent. There are jobs by the thousands; in fact, by the millions. But Uncle Sam wants trained hands. Opportunity knocks—and ambitious youngsters, hungry for work, are responding all over the nation.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

THERE'S that big word we've been tempted to use. Since a long time. Only when the occasion arose, we'd always forgotten how to spell it; or, for that matter, had forgotten what it was altogether, although remaining vividly aware of what it stood for and the present need of such a word in our language. This is it: pronounced "eska-to-logical," and spelled "eschatological"; meaning, in a general way, whatever concerns the end of the world, or what is sometimes referred to as "the Last Judgment"—things like that. And that, it seems, is what a whole lot of people now look for. Without distinction as to race, religion, mother-wit or education. All around the world—North, South, East, West. A fair share of the world's population, it appears, has now gone, definitely escha(eska)-to-logical.

BIBLE, stars, Great Pyramid—these are all being called upon now to show that the end of the world is near. And this, if not in complete destruction, then, at least, in a transformation so complete that survivors, if any, will be hard put to call it by name. "As we look about us in the world," says the Reverend Louis T. Talbot, in his book on "The Prophecies of Daniel," "we cannot keep from wondering if 'the time of the end' may not be drawing near... it does look as if the coming of the Lord were at our doors." But in that fine autobiography "Out of My Life and Thought," Albert Schweitzer, you will remember, shows how, back in the days when Jesus spoke, the world even then was filled with just this same sort of prophecy. So also, according to Josephus, when Caesar was knocking down the walls of Jerusalem. So also uncounted times in the history of every land—in all the centuries, it seems. As every educated person knows—and no need, therefore, to cite more examples here.

BUT what started us off along this line was something we came across in an excellent new book passed on to us by a friend—this time a biography, by Ronald Bodley and Lorna Hearst—a life of that extraordinary English woman, Gertrude Bell. This, in one of her letters from Mesopotamia: "What a country this is!... Race after race, one on top of the other, the whole land strewn with the mighty relics of them. We in Europe are accustomed to think that civilization is an advancing flood that has gone steadily forward since the beginning of time. I believe we are wrong. It is a tide that ebbs and flows, reaches high water mark and turns back again. Do you think that from age to age it rises higher than before? I wonder—and I doubt."

WELL, we doubt also—when we read in the papers or hear by radio of so much that is now going on in the world; also we doubt if the world has much advanced when—generally late at night—we as if escape from time and space into one of those very eras, perhaps, to which Gertrude Bell refers. Thus, for example, when stumbling on something written in the days of Solomon: "...in the days when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, and the doors shall be shut in the streets... or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken... Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it."

THEN, compare this, if you will, with one brief passage from a letter just recently written by an Englishman to a friend of ours here in Sierra Madre—a paragraph, incidentally, that follows the graphic description of a recent and devastating air-raid. "Although I enjoy reading history," he writes, "and thinking about the march of events, the marvelous scope of men's minds... I wonder whether there is not another and even better way of looking at things—one which may penetrate deeper into reality. Does the pageant of history blind us to a deeper glory? Much as we value books and libraries, pictures and art galleries... is there not something more divine than these, something which will endure when all these lesser glories are gone, and the great globe itself dissolved?"

WE see our space is about gone. So let's return, for this closing moment, to Gertrude Bell—who was a seeress and a poet as well as all the other things that made her great. For example, to her translation of an ancient Persian stanza that now adorns her memorial window in a Yorkshire church. This: "Thus said the poet: When Death comes to you... he lays two fingers on your ears, and two upon your eyes he lays; one on your lips—whispering, 'Silence!' And what's that but the end of this world—for all and any of us?—our own Book of Revelations, the climax eschatological!"

UNCENSORED By LEONE BAXTER

"The spoiled child is America's heaviest crop," remarked a medical-savant the other day; and he was undoubtedly right. "Nowhere else in the world are the young so systematically pampered and fatally handicapped by their own parents." Looking over the world today, nobody would even try to refute that statement.

"The outstanding characteristic of young people is lack of gratitude for the advantages bestowed on them," Dr. Alexis Carrel finished—and truer words were never spoken!

True. But not necessarily alarming. Every generation in its gay and vibrant youth is accused of leading civilization straight to perdition by one path or another. College youngsters do some mighty silly, irresponsible things today. They did yesterday, too. And the day before, according to our fathers before us.

Wasp waists were going to unfit our mother for raising families; the jazz age was going to do the same for their daughters. American youth undeniably expects far too much for too little. American youth is rankly unappreciative. But on both counts youth is far outstripped by its elders. Boys and girls today are probably no more naturally frivolous or cynical or demanding than the generation that preceded them. But it certainly would be unnatural if they were wholly unaffected by the disillusionment, irresponsibility and inertia marking depression years.

By the same token, today's young people probably are no less ambitious than their elders have taught them to be example day.

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

SKIN DEEP

Lets take a peak at Gerties place, where daily, scores of women race to squeeze inside a little booth and voice their plea, "O give us youth." Close by, an operator lurks, to give the customers the works with violet ray and facial packs, a bang up job, for fifteen smacks. There sits a chronic beauty slave preparing for a permanent wave, tonight, you'll find her in command at Jake and Tessie's hot dog stand. There's Mrs. Blimp, past sixty-three, she's just received a legacy; two thousand dollars! What a gift, so now, her face can get a lift. The beauty parlor, to be sure, contributes to a girl's allure but, sad to say, the best of them don't look so hot, at six A.M.

It was no enviable record that California made for itself in out-distancing the 47 other states in traffic fatalities, with a toll of 49 deaths during the three-day Independence Day weekend. By June 1, California's highway homicide had claimed the lives of 1,243 persons, a gain of 16.9 per cent over the first five months of 1940. Though highway engineers have wrought amazing achievements in building safer traffic arteries, death stalks the highways today more menacingly than ever before. It may well be, as some traffic experts assert, that the present method of licensing drivers is so inadequate as to be little better than useless. The ability to drive a car around the block is no guarantee of physical or psychological fitness to operate a vehicle. Able wheelmanship, which demands courtesy as well as skill, is one thing highway engineers can't provide, but it is the one thing above all others which can reduce homicide on our highways.

Mounting employment rolls for months have told of California's declining unemployment. Today the same story is confirmed by a different source. The number of claims filed for unemployment insurance during the first week of July dropped 55 per cent compared with that week a year ago. That's more than a mere drop. It's a real back-to-work tide.

The safeguarding of supply lines to Britain has been decisively strengthened by America's occupation of Iceland, an act which at the same time establishes a defense frontier 2700 miles distant from the Eastern shores of the United States. In addition, the recent words of Secretary of the Navy Knox and of Prime Minister Churchill go far to indicate that units of the British and American navies will collaborate to make the Atlantic as far east as Iceland, a death zone for German sea raiders and submarines. While Hitler's armies are expending themselves in a titanic effort to hammer down Russian defenses, the United States and Britain have taken swift steps to bolster up their own. This country, of course, had the alternative of waiting for Germany to seize Iceland, and then fighting or giving in. By taking the initiative, the United States has spared itself the necessity of having to do either.

Not only over the embattled earth in Europe, Russia and the Middle East is aviation in the forefront of the news. In the ranks of America's civilian fliers who today number 100,000, the government is now seeking to

A survey by Dean James C. De Voss of San Jose State College indicates that students are showing an "extravagance of ambition" with respect to their abilities and to the labor market. The fact that from 40 to 80 per cent of high school students want white collar jobs is due, Dean Voss believes, to counsellors and parents who, while emphasizing white collar work, forget it represents only about 3 per cent of the jobs available.

As far as the very little shavers are concerned, certainly the well-behaved child with a perfect deportment score on all occasions is the exception. But he always was. The 1941 crop of spoiled kids appears little different from that of 1921; and the 1901 yield undoubtedly would have compared favorably with both.

Admittedly many youngsters are handicapped by too much parental pampering. But many are ruined, too, by too little of it. By too little real understanding and guidance, by too little instruction on the importance of thinking and doing for themselves. By elders who've forgotten, somehow, how to set the shining example for these youngsters of these youngsters of to-find qualified pilots for the newly created flight ferrying command to speed war planes to Britain. In its current survey, the government is including both men and women. Jacquelin Cochran, ace aviatrix who recently served as co-pilot in flying an American bomber across the Atlantic, is herself proof of women's ability to serve in this field. Besides 90,000 fliers of lesser experience, the nation has 1,500 airline pilots, and another 10,000 commercial pilots of more than 200 hours flying experience. In this large civilian force, which has nearly quadrupled in number in the last few years, the nation has an important reserve arm, a large section of which is able and ready to play a role in the preparedness program.

If recent test collections made on a citywide basis are any indication, the first nationwide collection of old aluminum, set for July 21, should sizeably fatten the country's present aluminum stocks. Tests in Richmond, Va., and Madison, Wis., indicate that next week's countrywide effort should secure 20 million pounds of aluminum, an amount sufficient to supply 2,000 fighter planes with all their required aluminum. The American home here gets its chance to put itself on the supply line of the country's aircraft plants. What's eligible for the collection? Worn out and no longer wanted or needed pots, pans, toys, book ends, ice trays, measuring cups, kettles, jar tops and similar aluminum-made goods. Here may be a chance to rid your home of a few unused utensils and do a good turn for Uncle Sam at the same time.

IF YOU'VE EVER SAID, "I hate to think of cooking in summer," here's good news—a Certified Performance gas range—that makes cooking fun even in warm weather. Extra heavy insulation keeps heat inside the range—out of your kitchen. Automatic controls take the guess work out of roasting and baking—enable you to relax knowing that everything is going to "come out just right." CP broilers need no preheating (a real time-saver) and are constructed so that face and hands are always out of the heat zone, even when you're removing foods. ### Reduced Prices For Winter Comfort Bought In July Liberal summer discounts on gas home heating equipment installed during July is being featured again this year in the sixth annual gas heating appliance sales campaign throughout Southern California.

In making this announcement, Mr. A. E. Madden, district manager of the gas company, declared that gas heating appliance manufacturers and dealers, acting in cooperation with the gas company, have worked out a plan whereby home owners who wish to avail themselves of the normal summer lull in the heating equipment business, will be allowed a discount of ten percent from the retail installed cost of the appliance. The offer applies only to built-in unit furnaces and floor furnaces installed in homes already built, he said. Financed through a modernization loan plan, equipment may be purchased with no down payment, no payment until October when the heating season begins, and as long as three years to pay.

As It Appears To me

Celebration of American Independence having tempted us to take a step toward practical application of the "Life, Liberty and Pursuit of Happiness" doctrine, at least two members of the NEWS staff are seriously considering a trek into the High Sierras.

Now all we have to do is work out such small details as transportation, budget, and substitute staff members who will peck away at our typewriters well, but not TOO efficiently—because we do want to be welcomed back to our desks.

About transportation—we are crinkling our brows as to whether we should go over to Hollywood, borrow a burro from Peter and proceed in the pastoral manner... confiscate a swanky Mercury from Carl Hansen and go off in appropriate style, or keep both feet on the ground, strap knapsacks on our shoulders and really see the country. All suggestions will be given careful and unbiased consideration.

In the meantime we are thinking with appreciation of earlier Americans who adopted the phrase "the pursuit of happiness" steeped in realism and foes of deceit, they certainly set us straight with that phrase, promising nothing but inferring much.

The police log for Friday, Saturday and Sunday is a series of reports reading "call from Mr. Blank on Orange Grove avenue that someone is discharging firecrackers near his home... call from Vista Circle drive "ditto." Then another from the southeast end of town, and finally an exasperated query from Jim Heasley wanting to know how one police car could be everywhere at one time—which is something we can't figure out either.

Townpeople certainly winked at the ordinance against fireworks over the Fourth, probably in part because of the super efficiency of our fire department. As some of our younger ones put it to me on the eve of the Fourth, "Well even if we did start a fire the fire department would have it out in no time." To be able to inspire a faith like that is an achievement, and in this instance it is certainly based on fact. However there are times when even the greatest efficiency is powerless. It might be wise not to push our local fire fighters to the extreme.

For a long time we have known that our police force could boast one inventor and now we find that two inventive minds are at work there. With all city cars now equipped with a fire fighting apparatus which is the successful brain child of Art Johnson, we now learn that Gordon McMillan has been cogitating on a safety gadget which makes it impossible for a revolver to slip or be jarred from a holster yet permits it to be withdrawn in less than a split second by the wearer. Five patent claims have already been granted and many officers may be wearing safety holsters soon, because "Mac" has used some of his spare time profitably.

We don't want to make you envious, but we have just returned from a de luxe ride in the local B-19. Thirty-five miles an hour, top speed, good brakes and makes the top of Michillinda on "high." We shall have to inquire from Officer Johnson about the possibility of borrowing it for our High Sierra Vacation.

Someone whom we like a lot and who evidently likes us enough to subtly tell us that it is time we took stock of ourself and made a few revisions and corrections, has sent us the following Triplet on living life. We have an idea that is was cribbed from Matt Weinstock, who credited it to Vivian W. Daniels. Here it is and not so subtle as it might be: I would not be a gentle child. Gentle children miss too much. Weak of passion, safe and mild, I would not be a gentle child. I want to live life joyful, wild And thrill to danger's every touch.

I would not be a gentle child. Gentle children miss too much. We could tell him that he doesn't know a thing about it but we won't.

—Margaret Eliason

What They Say ---

T. J. Ryan, San Diego draftee at Liggett Field maneuvers—"They ought to draft those guys on the picket line and give 'em a taste of working 48 hours at a stretch with no overtime, at $21 a month. What the hell are they squawking about?"

Aida Broadbent, Hollywood ballet director—"The 1940's have brought a new long-legged ballet, outmoding the species of the 30's as definitely as the decade has discarded minnie golf, the gold standard and bathtub gin."

Maj. O. J. Keating—"A fed-up soldier is a no good soldier. Wholesome recreation for homesick boys in dreary camps far from their families and friends is absolutely necessary if morale is to be maintained."

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

Another July 4th passed without a fire call, but not without a certain amount of good luck and perhaps some little alertness of the firemen and policemen. Many people disregarded our plea not to shoot firecrackers and other dangerous fireworks. On several occasions small children were allowed to light firecrackers at places where fire could have been started very easily. The danger of firecrackers is not immediate, but when they are left after being fired, they smoulder for a long time. Not only do some parents allow their children to have and shoot firecrackers, but they were known to have done it themselves.

A majority of the firemen stayed in Sierra Madre over the holiday. Some enjoyed a quiet day at home while others attended the picnic held at the home of the Kargers, and had a wonderful time.

Trader Art Johnson now drives around in a "B-19". That's what he calls it. Always on the alert for a trade, he ran across a fellow who wanted something Art had and as he had a car that he didn't want, Art is now the owner of a years back model that he can be seen driving about town at all hours. As long as he has it, it will be called the town car. He hasn't room in the garage for it, what with all his wheels and gadgets there, so it is necessary to leave it on the street.

Louise Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards of 307 Mariposa, is visiting in Venice this week with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards, Jr.
